

Professional Website and Content Management for $599

Most web site providers will charge you to create your website and then any changes to the content will result in additional substantial charges.

With Knowledge Control's WebsiteControl Lite, you can easily add or change the content of your own website , - without paying additional charges or hiring your own webmaster, and without having any technical skills! This will save you thousands of dollars each year .

Professional State-of-the-Art 5 Section Website and Content Management Intranet

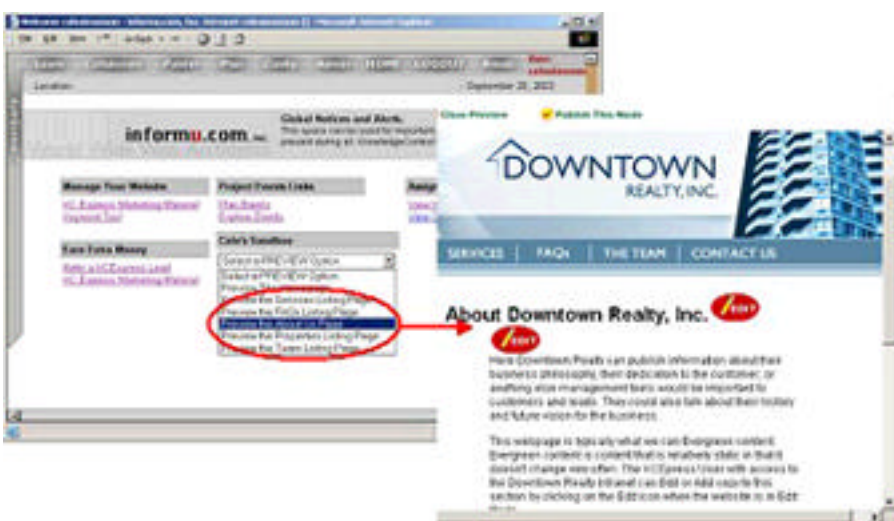

From the Real Estate business to an Engineering firm and everything in between; changing your website content for the different seasons of the year; advertising periodic sales promotions; or updating event listings, such as music shows, – if you want to be able to change the content of your website on a regular basis, then WebsiteControl Lite lets you do it easily, and as often as you like.

A major facet to the success of any website is how often it comes up in search engines when a person searches for your kind of business. WebsiteControl Lite lets you easily make changes to the hidden text that search engines see. This hidden text is known as Meta Tags. So if your sales are not very high because your site is not showing up when people search for a business or product like yours, you can experiment with different Meta Tags to improve your visibility!
